Shared Vision BC

Services for Parents and Children with Visual Impairments

In British Columbia we are fortunate to have many services for the intervention, support and education of children with visual impairments. While you may currently be working with one of the services listed below, you will also find support from these other community resources.

Please take the time to call, email or visit the websites included in this brochure.

The Visual Impairment Program at Sunny Hill Health Centre for Children (Vancouver) is a provincial resource program which provides diagnostic assessment and treatment planning services for children birth to 19 years who have a suspected or known vision loss. Family and community education and consultation services are also provided. Children birth to school entry receive support in their community by vision consultants who provide service and resources to optimize functional vision development, concept and language development, daycare/preschool inclusion, preschool orientation and mobility, self-help and recreational skills as well as support the transition to kindergarten.

Contact Dr. Roberta Heaven, Team Leader, Visual Impairment Program; Sunny Hill Health Centre for Children, 3644 Slocan Street, Vancouver, BC V5M 3E8; 604-453-8300 x 8454. For more information: www.bcchildrens.ca/Services/SunnyHillHealthCtr/default.htm

On Vancouver Island, the Queen Alexandra (QA) Centre for Children's Health offers an affiliated program.

In the the Greater Victoria-Gulf Island region a local vision consultant works with the QA Early Intervention program. For other children on Vancouver Island community and home visits are provided by the Vision Consultant in partnership with Sunny Hill Health Centre.

On the Island, contact Hillary Luis, Queen Alexandra Centre for Children's Health, 2400 Arbutus Road, Victoria, BC V8N 1V7 250-519-5390

Provincial Resource Centre for the Visually Impaired (PRCVI) is a Ministry of Education Provincial Resource Program established to support school districts in the education of students in kindergarten through to grade 12, whose access to learning is restricted due to a visual impairment or blindness. PRCVI provides professional development and consultation support to BC Vision Teachers (www.bcvt.ca) and other school district personnel along with coordinating outreach opportunities that foster interagency collaboration. We provide resources including Braille and large print as well as digital books through ARC-BC (www.arcbc.org). Visit www.prcvi.org or call 604-266-3699.

BC Blind Sports supports children with and without additional disabilities who are blind, visually impaired, or deafblind and their families throughout BC. Play and physical activity results in physical, social and emotional benefits. We work with parents, instructors, and others to facilitate development of motor skills and physical literacy. Our parents' guide and video (DVD) "Encouraging Physical Activity in Preschoolers with Visual Impairment" is available to get you started. We are also available to work with students in their schools to facilitate participation in PE. We travel to communities throughout BC visiting children/youth and their families in their schools and community programs.
